REFLECTIONS ON CLASSROOM THINKING STRATEGIES

(Over 20,000 sold)

Practical Strategies to Encourage Thinking in Your Classroom (P–12) includes Broad-Brush Unit Planning

'Eric's book provides me with a range of practical activities for immediate classroom application. The activities are engaging and provide useful tools to develop effective thinking skills in the classroom. "Reflections on Classroom Thinking Strategies" is a resource that I regularly use to plan and embed thinking into my lessons.'

Nalini Naidu, Kambrya College

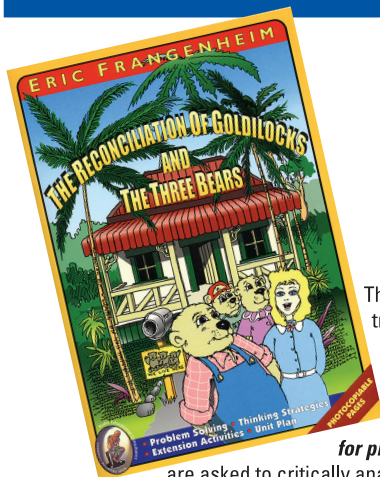

Be inspired to enrich your classroom teaching practice by implementing the thinking strategies outlined in the Teaching and Thinking Framework:

- ⊙ Make higher-order thinking a priority for your thinking classroom.
- ⊙ Learn how to transform your teaching practice by making these 42 creative and co-operative thinking strategies an integral part of your daily practice.
- ⊙ Create a stimulating classroom or home learning environment using the Poster pages provided.
- ⊙ Bonus lesson plans and hints on Outcomes-Based Education and Classroom Wall Posters.

SAGE Publications, United Kingdom, has taken world publishing and distributing rights for "Reflections on Classroom Thinking Strategies" excluding Australia and New Zealand.

GOLDILOCKS...

primary school teachers are talking about...

"THE RECONCILIATION OF GOLDILOCKS AND THE THREE BEARS"

An exciting, innovative unit that explores what might have happened to Goldilocks after her 'invasion' and 'vandalism' of the Three Bears' house!

This deconstruction of the traditional story of 'Goldilocks and the Three Bears' not only provides a comprehensive, step-by-step teaching plan but also offers a framework for planning further units. Students are asked to critically analyse the basic elements of this traditional tale and re-construct a futures scenario involving the process of reconciliation, re-education and communication. This approach ensures that primary students can explore the ramifications of relationships whether they are within a family, a class or the wider community.

- ⊙ Promotes the teaching of specific and appropriate cognitive and co-operative thinking strategies applicable to a range of subject areas and year levels
- ⊙ Incorporates co-operative group strategies for successful team work
- ⊙ Stimulates thoughtful discussion on a range of topical 'real-life' issues
- ⊙ Encourages persistence, resilience and the development of a social conscience
- ⊙ Provides a model for deconstructing and exploring the 'modern' ramifications of other traditional classics
- ⊙ Supports teachers in establishing vibrant and stimulating educational environments where learning is fun and the is fun in learning!
- ⊙ Incorporates a quick teacher reference Matrix – Some Strategies for Thinking at Different Levels
- ⊙ Includes Blackline Masters of all key materials
